

Intrigo Goes Down Under to Share IBP Hands On Workshops

FREMONT, CA, SYDNEY AND MELBOURNE, AUSTRALIA— FEBRUARY 12, 2018 — Intrigo Systems, a leading provider of enterprise and cloud solutions in e-commerce, supply chain and procurement in the dynamic SAP ecosystem, announced today the schedule for its Australian IBP workshops, in conjunction with SAP, being held February 13-14, 2018 in Sydney and Melbourne.

“As the global leader in IBP, Intrigo is uniquely positioned to enable enterprises to realize the full potential of this game changing supply chain planning solution from SAP. These workshops highlight the successes of our customers and delve into best practices so attendees can get deep insights into how IBP can transform their planning function. Intrigo is looking forward to bringing that expertise to Australia,” said Kanth Krishnan, Chief Customer at Intrigo Systems.

During this complimentary workshop, participants will learn:

Integrate sales and operations planning (S&OP), demand planning and sensing, response and supply planning, and inventory optimization.

Use social collaboration capabilities to rapidly refine forecasting and demand management.

Get end-to-end supply chain visibility and run powerful predictive analytics.

Create what-if simulations to evaluate different plans and understand the potential impact of decisions.

Additionally, a customer case study will be showcased including time and cost savings realized by a global chemical corporation.

Registration, agenda and details for the complimentary Australian workshops available at <https://www.eiseverywhere.com/ehome/307754>.
